Case for Flight.
"I know as well as you do that the grand jury hasn't in session now," said a citizen of the Rumpus Ridge region, whom Gap Johnson, while on hunting, had found ensconced in a cave. "I keep posted on the march of events better than that. I'm hiding out simply because my wife is the most peculiar woman in seven states—dope right up in the tree tops over nuthin' a-tall. Night before last I was settin' there, not looking for trouble any more than a sucking dove, when she spoke up and said that next day was the twentieth anniversary of our wedding. I never believe in argy-bargy, and so I just let it go at that. But when she said 'well, better kill the hunk hog and invite in the neighbors, I says, 'What do you want to kill the lame hog for? The pore critter hasn't to blame for something that happened 20 years ago.' And then—well, I just sorter came away."

He Is Not Dead, But Sleepeth.
"So the saloons are dead," mourned the overseas veteran, returning to the land of the free for the first time since 1917. "Yes, but you can communicate with their spirits," said his friend. —Legion Weekly.

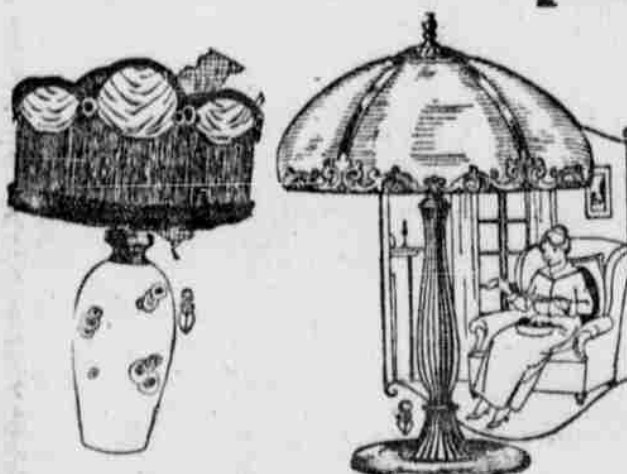

Call Creek Tribe Meeting.
By Associated Press Staff Wire. MURKOGEE, Dec. 14.—It was learned today that a meeting of the Creek tribe will be held at Okmulgee on Thursday. Big Blaze at Dillard.

Santa's Slip.
Mother—"Who ever taught you to use that dreadful word?"
Tommy—"Santa Claus, mamma."
"Santa Claus?"
"Yes, mamma, when he fell over a chair in my bedroom on Christmas eve."
